

Basic Gobi short trip

Day 1: In the morning, catch your flight for the Gobi, this arid semi-desert land with sparse vegetation, where gazelles roam and eagles in the sky. Upon arrival, you'll be met by Boojum driver/vehicle. Drive south towards the Yolyn Am canyon. Famed for its rich bird habitat, originally established as a bird preserve. Explore the area on foot. Drive to ger camp which is located near by the Flaming Cliffs. Overnight in gers.

Day 2: Continue your Gobi exploration with Bayan Zag. Renowned as "The Flaming Cliffs" by American explorers for its dramatic shapes and colors (especially at sunset). Presenting the first dinosaur eggs ever to be found in the history of world paleontology, It is still offers numerous fossils yet to be found. Packed lunch at the site. Return via Moltzog Els (sand dunes), visit to camel breeders camp. Overnight in gers.

Day 3: Fly back to Ulaanbaatar /UB/.

Two humped camels: Its population of two million exists mainly in the domesticated form. Mongolia is home to 2/3 of the two-humped Bactrian camels in the world. Camels are well adapted Gobi's arid harsh climate where temperatures fluctuate between +48C to -35C. Vegetation is sparse and water is scarce; the Gobi genuinely challenges survival of both domestic and wild Bactrian Camels. Camel, therefore, can drink 135 liters of water easily and live without water up to a month. Nowadays, Mongolian nomads still use camels as a pack animal for their seasonal migration. In rural Mongolia, especially in arid places, camel milk is a local delicacy.

What's Included: Meals (lunch on the first day through breakfast on the last day), English speaking guide, ger accommodations, vehicle/driver and park/entry fees.
